HOW THE STARS SAY "I Do"

THE STARS OF THE HALLMARK CHANNEL ORIGINAL MOVIE BRIDAL FEVER aren't the only ones eagerly anticipating a big wedding. Hollywood nuptial news dominates headlines more now than ever – and when the A-List ties the knot, no expense is spared, no detail goes unchecked. Here are a few of Tinseltown's favorite trends for 2008.

Going Green

Forget blue, environmentally conscious brides need something "green" in 2008:

- 1 Have the chauffer drive a hybrid car
- 2 Buy colorful organic fruit centerpieces
- 3 Use digital photos only; no more wasteful prints

Handmade wedding invitations from Green Field Paper Company are crafted using 100% post consumer, earth pigments and soy based inks and sprout wildflowers when planted.

The rock on your ring finger is just the tip of the iceberg, ladies:

- 2 Earrings with multiple micro-set stones
- 3 Vintage pieces with big gems and simple lines

Entertaining Entertainers

Engross a room of A-listers and their fabulous friends who have truly seen it all:

- 1 They'll gawk at a classic champagne fountain
- 2 Destination weddings to desolate locales are impressive
- 3 Everyone is the director with one-time-use video cameras

THE FAVORITE: ✓

DJ's are fun, but nothing beats the real thing. BookingEntertainment.com can secure the services of the hottest names in music to serenade the dance floor with a chart-topping hit.

Fashionable Floral

A celebrity bride knows her bouquet is an accessory to her dress, not just another part of the overall look of the event:

- 1 Use only one type of flower bordered by chic foliage
- 2 Try a simple bouquet and unusual or contrasting ribbon
- 3 The bouquet must be smaller than the bride's face

Return to the romantic! Prudence Designs in NYC suggests something monochromatic. This enables a contrast to the dress itself, but never overpowers it. A-List weddings are no time to take trendy risks. Play it safe and classic.
